Loan Estimate with Truth in Lending Act disclosure citations

Consumer Financial Protection Bureau

In this document, the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau (Bureau) has listed on the Loan Estimate citations to the disclosure provisions of Chapter 2 of the Truth in Lending Act (TILA) referenced in the preamble of the Integrated Mortgage Disclosure final rule, 78 Fed. Reg. 79,730 (Dec. 31, 2013). This document does not include citations to other legal authority the Bureau relied on in adopting the rule, whether to substantive, non-disclosure requirements imposed by TILA, formatting or timing requirements imposed by TILA, requirements contained in Chapter 1 of TILA, provisions of the Real Estate Settlement Procedures Act, sections of the Dodd-Frank Act not codified in Chapter 2 of TILA, or other legal authority. If a section of the Loan Estimate does not include a citation, the Bureau did not rely on the disclosure provisions of Chapter 2 of TILA in implementing the final rule. For complete and definitive requirements, please refer to the rule and its Official Interpretations. This document does not represent legal interpretation, guidance, or advice of the Bureau. This document does not bind the Bureau and does not create any rights, benefits, or defenses, substantive or procedural, which are enforceable by any party in any manner.
